The area's premier park, consisting of 9.77 acres was created in 1973 when Penn Central sold the land to the Bellwood-Antis Park and Recreation Authority for $3,000. The park includes a swimming pool, pavilions, a playground, a toddler play area and little league/T-Ball fields. Bounded to the south by Bells Gap Run, there is an approved trout stream that offers residents the opportunity for both active and passive recreation.

The Library functions as a community center for the Bellwood-Antis area hosting many community events and meetings for local clubs and organizations and as well as a variety of programs.
